Odham Meets With Local Friends To Discuss Campaign

Favors Equal Representation and Benefits

Candidate Odham spent most of the day in the Glades with various groups concerning his coming campaign for Governor.

In Belle Glade, Mr. Odham met with more than dozen former members of his campaign and elaborated on his previously announced campaign promises.

One fact clearly expounded by the candidate is that he believes in fair representation of the people in the form of roads and permanent improvements.

Mr. Odham has definite ideas about the conduct of the Road Board in the State Board concerning fair representation when the question of reappointment comes up in its natural course.

ARMED CITIZENS CAPTURE BANDITS AFTER GUN FIGHT

Lonnie Riddell and Edward Dean armed citizens nabbed a bandit near Barboursville early Tuesday afternoon, after they had fled through 4 counties around the Western shore of Lake Okeechobee. Riddell and his son were the first to find the bandits, who shot their way out of a store which they were caught looting when trapped by an Okeechobee police officer, sheriff's patrol and sheriff's officers joining in the hunt.

The bandits finally got away around a rock block at Clewiston. They were found later when skinned on a side road.

The pair, from Miami, have since been connected with several robberies in Miami.

They had failed in their attempt to rob the Post Office safe in Okeechobee, but had took the change box with them and made no attempt to do so.

Winners in the tournament were Louise Rhodes, Rhoda Slade and Zelma Betzner. Golfers you don't know what you missed!

Joe says he is planning some golf events each Sunday and would like to have all golfers come out and participate. Several tournaments are planned this year and have a few out of town golfers have been playing the course. Rev. and Mrs. Bee are the most ardent golfers in the City Commission and recommended to the City Commission. The unanimity of opinion in the Zoning authority with the members of the applicants indicated close thought of the two groups.

The combine — mower-chopper — plow — harrow — planter — all because the normal 100-pounder can't do it all. And if all of fresh grass doesn't give her the fuel for capacity milk production, the center unit will supply daily to bring in the fresh cut feed to the pen where the milkers are kept.

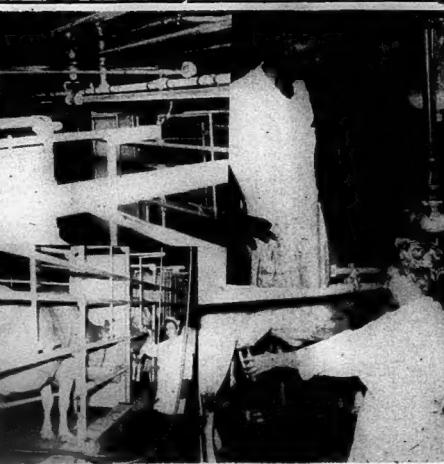

"Contented Cow" is not a coined phrase of the advertising field, according to Joe — that's his ultimate aim, and most important, as they are being prepared for market. Foremost brings the feed to them and wants them to exert themselves as little as possible getting the cud, and he wants it palatable, strong and nutritious, of what it takes to make them keep full and the manufacturing plant capable to turn out capacity milk production.

"Hearty bliss" is the mental state of Joe as he turns up in his dairy herd during the milking hour — no bothering to eat, just a steady chewing of the cud and a sturdy assist to the smooth milk flow.

To promote this attitude of "hearty cooperation" Joe provides the cattle with a 150 x 750 rocked enclosure, always clean with attractive food dispensing units, a quiet, cool, quiet and rest. The calves are kept apart and retired milkers used as nurse mothers, as shown in the pictures. When they have reached a weight of 300 to 400 pounds, in three to four months of economically attractive weaning weight they are sold.

To get this satisfactory weaning weight grade jerseys are mated to purebred beef type bulls.

In the eight-place milking room, Joe expects to handle up to 1,000 pounds of milk in a continuous 24-hour operation and with the most modern, sanitary and efficient system of mechanical milking machines with the milk transferred thru glass

Paul Gyurek, Superintendent of Foremost's cheese operation, is shown, upper right, with the milk being received thru glass and stainless steel pipes from the milking room where his wife, directly below, is operating a milking machine on one of the pens. At the lower left, Mrs. Gyurek is shown in the pit of the cheese vat, which holds 10,000 gallons of milk. In the center, a new system of glass pipes thru which the fresh milk is metered direct from the cows to the stainless steel processing vat.

Land leased by The Herald and stainless steel tubing to the processing vats, so that the milk is never exposed to the air from the cow to the sealed bottle.

The Paul Gyurek family, mama, papa, and Sammie were brought to Belle Glade by Joe for the purpose of visiting the new cheese plant.

Harper because it is an experienced family who delivers and appreciates the aims of the Foremost organization. Comfortable living quarters have been provided on the second floor of the home and Sammie helps out when his schooling and books haven't got him otherwise busy.

Foremost is an organization specializing in processing and distributing milk and milk products. Dairying operations, such as the Shawano unit are demonstrations for the benefit of local farmers who wish to produce milk and sell to them. Special care is being spent on the operation so that any prospective cattlemen may adapt any part of the operation to his own plans and know exactly the results to be expected.

Cooperation to the extent of community use of the pens and milking room for nearby operators is the basis of Foremost. The Edisto marshes are being faced with suburban demand for building sites with the result that former dairy pastures are being converted to residential areas for 50 to 300-house residential developments. Milk is necessary to the raising of future citizens and the dairy must go further out. President Paul Reinhold believes the much land around Lake Okeechobee is the logical bear-picker's idiom — he's "puttin' his money where his mouth is".

The overall idea, the scientist and experienced idea worth the "long green" to oil the wheels of industry and the foresight and integrity to go to it — this is what Foremost is furnishing in the establishment of a basic industry in the mucklands of the Glades.

Presenting the mighty aristocrat of light-duty trucks —

the 1954 GMC

HERE is the most extraordinary light-duty truck ever built. It has the unique styling of a fine passenger car—a graceful grille of modern design—a panoramic view of piecemeal windshield—two-tone interiors with harmonizing upholstery—fender flares that will make you proud to be seen in.

And it has a whopping 125-horsepower engine—more powerful than many trucks with a two-ton rating.

The Pickup—one of 19 models—has a pickup that holds up to 11 more cubic feet than last year's compact model. Its tail gate is grain-tight—and sand-tight.

And—a truck feature pioneered by GMC—it offers the driversteering, including the advantages of Truck Hydramatic Drive!

One final and surprising point: The price of the GMC, value for value, is unsurpassed anywhere on the truck market.

That's the story. The next move is yours. Come in and see "the world's most modern truck." And—make it soon.

DEATH FROM INFLUENZA IN FLA. EXCEEDS 1953

Influenza, the enigma that is everywhere disease, seems to be putting more than the usual number of persons to bed this winter, the State Board of Health has observed.

It gets an index of the prevalence of influenza from cases reported, although these are only a small number of the total cases, explained Dr. L. E. Parks, director of the Bureau of Communicable Diseases. In 1953, 1,405 cases were reported by doctors to the State Board of Health, compared with only 213 for 1952. Furthermore, last year 205 persons died of the flu, 90 more than the year before.

Not much is known about prevention and cure of influenza and its cousin, the common cold. They are caused by a variety of organisms, or viruses, and there are vaccines for only two of them.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

Washington — Next Wednesday the Congress of the United States will reconvene for what historians are likely to consider the most momentous and vital session in the history of the nation.

Many domestic issues challenging the nation's legislative body may grave problems face the President and the executive branch of the government.

The year 1954 could mark the crossroads in this nation's history — a night of reckoning, a turning point for the entire world and its civilization. There assuredly will be political decisions, and political choices, which will chart the course of our nation's two-party system.

It is encouraging to note that the leaders of both parties in the Congress approach their tasks prayerfully, in a spirit of dedication, and hopefully benefits a Bright New Year.

Housing Hope — The Housing and Home Finance Agency has announced a million-home goal for 1954, with a program heavily dependent upon cooperation of private industry. Director Albert Cole's announcement has produced mixed reactions here but most have adopted a wait-and-see attitude. I am urging farmers to change signals quickly if the program falls short at any stage of requirements either of the building industry or the army of would-be homeowners.

New Farm Aid — When Secretary Benson approved an emergency loan program for 17 Florida counties hit by floods he pointed me promptly attention to request for inclusion of additional counties under this Farmers Home Administration operation. Manatee now is added to the list and the door is still open to others which have a genuine need.

News Notes Off the Cuff — Most of my staff has gone home for Christmas; that may mean it will take a day or two longer to reach you. Your letter (you know it is Christmas during the holiday season). Dr. Milton Eisenhower, back from a tour of Latin America, seems to have come up with a good many of the problems of our American relations that I am urging him to a logical follow-up to his report, to join us in bringing about the cultural and trade center at Miami.

We have been within a hair's breadth of getting a good having government financial support for this project and a note from the President would do the trick.

My staff joins me in wishing for all Florida a Bright, Prosperous 1954!

FLORIDA FARMERS TO MAKE TOUR

Fort Lauderdale, Fla.—Dutch experts in reclaiming land, fighting back the sea will provide valuable land-reclamation lessons for South Florida farmers, when they visit The Netherlands this summer.

The Florida Farm "Good Will" tour of Europe, arranged by Broward County Farm Agent B. E. Lawton and the United Nations Food and Agricultural Committee, is scheduled to spend several days in the Netherlands during mid-July. There, they will have an opportunity to learn the steps by which sea-bottom is first dried off, then treated with water, and finally turned dry to provide rich new farmlands.

The Wieringermeerpolder, representative of such projects, will be the focal point of their visit to Holland. The area, but recently reclaimed from the bottom of the Zuider Zee, will be studied. Lawton points out that reclamation, water control and irrigation problems there are very similar to those throughout South Florida's farms and ranch lands.

"The Dutch have carried the process further than we have to," he says. "They actually push back the sea. But the lessons they have learned apply just as much for us, in our effort to achieve complete water control and irrigation," he adds.

The tour will cover agricultural, marketing and food-processing installations throughout France, Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Scotland and Great Britain, as well as Russia. In addition to farm study, recreational and sightseeing features are planned for the Florida farmers and their families, with stops made for the wives.

The tour is scheduled to depart May 28th, on the Queen Mary and return July 21. Details may be obtained from the Tropical Travel Bureau, in Fort Lauderdale.

MANY NEW IMPROVEMENTS

A real desire to aid the trucking industry is evident, and an important problem is the only "secret" of GMC Truck's new Silent Power Exhaust system. P. J. Monaghan, general manager of GMC Truck and Coach Division, said.

The new system, standard at no extra cost on all 1954 models now in production, has brought a flood of favorable comment and sequel from truck operators and newspapermen throughout the country.

Since we first announced Silent Power at the recent American Trucking Association Convention in Los Angeles, everyone wants to know what "revolutionary principle" is used in its construction," Monaghan said.

"Our principle is not revolutionary in any way. Engineers know it takes increased muffler volume to quiet exhaust noise without increasing back pressure on the engine BUT a larger muffler costs more to produce."

"For years, the cost factor has been shrinking the size of mufflers, though some industries still use some cases trucks have virtually a tomato can trying to muffle the exhaust of a powerful engine."

"We decided to reverse this trend by introducing larger mufflers made of heavier steel, and make them standard on all models."

"Muffler sizes have been increased in 1954 models by one-half times," Monaghan said.

"We believe the quieter exhaust system will aid truck operators in improving relations with the public, which has shown increasing resentment against truck noises," Monaghan continued.

"As we said when GMC Silent Power Exhaust was first announced, we believe our customers are free to adopt this new muffler concept. For the good of the industry, we hope they will do so."

Monaghan disclosed that six separate mufflers were redesigned and greatly enlarged to fit the varied line of GMC trucks which range from a one-half ton pickup to 35 ton trucks.

In the case of the green glass, the muffler for the .303 cubic inch engine (GMC's largest gas engine) was increased from 850 cubic inch capacity to 2178 cubic inches. The weight was increased from 130 to 230 pounds.

Both increased diameter and increased lengths were combined to provide the additional volume.

GMC engineers emphasized that the increased muffler does not have an obliterated exhaust noise. However, it has definitely reduced GMC exhaust noise to the point where it is no more than the roar of other normal truck sounds such as tires, gears, fans and engines.

Further, they point out, revised internal construction of the muffler has changed the point of exhaust noise from a piercing whine offensive to the human ear to a low-pitched humming sound which does not irritate the ear.

Silent Power Exhaust is equally effective on gas and diesel engines. It is also used on all GM buses.

Good time to look both ways!

Along about now Southern Bell folks like to look back at the year's record of telephone growth, and ahead toward our job of providing more and better service for Florida.

1953

A net gain of more than 58,000 new telephones was made, making a total of more than 620,000 in the state. Over $31,000,000 were spent in providing cable, central office and other equipment to improve and expand the service.

1954

Wherever you look, Florida is moving ahead. This means another busy year for us—building to meet continuing telephone needs.

To get investors to supply the money to continue expanding and improving telephone service requires a fair profit on the money already invested in telephone equipment.

THE instant you see these 1954 Buicks, you'll know that something sensational has happened in automobile styling.

Here is vastly more than the usual model changeover. Here is vastly more than could be done just by warming over what Buick had before. Here is something accomplished by going far beyond artful face-lifting. Here is that rarity of rarities—a completely new line of automobiles.

But Buick didn't stop with the bolder, fresher, swifter-lined beauty you see in raised and lengthened fender sweep—in the huge and back-swept expanse of windshield—in the lowered roofline—in the host more glamor features of exterior modernity.

They upped all horsepower to the highest in Buick history.

They engineered a new V8 for the SPECIAL—and in the process came up with new Power-Head Pistons that boost gasoline mileage in every engine.

They brought to market a sparkling new car with a famous name, the Buick CENTURY—a car with phenomenal horsepower for its weight and price—a car with more pure thrill per dollar than any Buick ever built.

And they did all this without change
